placemat PLUS

Nicky Epstein

"The placemat shown here is a combination of works that are featured in my next two books: Nicky Epstein's Knitted Embellishments (350 ways to enhance your knitting), released by Interweave Press, and Nicky Epstein's Decorative Knits for the Home, which is slated for release by Taunton Press in the winter of 2000. The picot fringe edge used to trim the two-color basketweave stitch placemat is a simple cast on, bind off technique. You can use any amount of stitches you want, depending on the length of the fringe you wish to achieve. This fringe can be sewn to any knitted edge or can even be used in trimming fabric pieces."

If you want to try an easy edging, but also want a quick making project, try Nicky's unique placemat. This celebrated author and designer uses a variegated matte cotton and two complementary solids to make this special piece.

Ann E. Smith

"Several years ago I had the opportunity to work as a children's art teacher at the Nelson Art Gallery in Kansas City. To teach the children "to see" we would ask them "What if?" What if you used red instead of green for the roof of your house? What if you used a small art board rather than the large one?

"Because of that experience, I ask myself the same question while designing. By changing colors or borders, the sweater assumes a new look. What if bobbles were inserted into the stockinette stitch rows? What if only one color is used?

"Which border do you like? This sweater works up so fast that you could try all five styles. And, ask yourself "What if?" You may be surprised at the original design you create!"

Choice makes knitting much more interesting. Changes in areas such as color are simple, but altering borders isn't always so easy. Here's an easy summery top that gives you many border options with sizes ranging from extra, extra small through extra large. The mercerized worsted-weight cotton makes it a quick-to-knit project as well.

for the FLARE OF IT

Flared peplum borders are never out of style and Norah's design is indeed a beauty. The use of narrow lacy ribbed panels adds flattering vertical lines that lengthen and slim the figure. The rosy beige cotton has a small amount of nylon added to keep it in shape for years to come.

Norah Gaughan

"Clean, classic, and feminine, this simple ribbed lace cardigan features a peplum-like flounce at the hem and half-length sleeves. Try my method of working the left front band before the right front band and seaming at the center back neck. I've saved myself a lot of time and heartache that way."

Back

With larger needles, cast on 272 (320, 368, 416) sts. Beg Charts A and B: Row 1 (RS) Work Chart A over 134 (158, 182, 206) sts as foll: work first st of chart, then work 24-st rep 5 (6, 7, 8) times, work last 13 sts of chart, place marker (pm), p4, pm, then work Chart B over rem 134 (158, 182, 206) sts as for Chart A. Cont in pats as established, working 4 sts between charts in rev St st (p on RS, k on WS) through chart row 36—96 (112, 128, 144) sts. Beg Chart C: Row 1 (RS) Work first st of chart, then work 8-st rep 5 (6, 7, 8) times, work last 5 sts of chart, p4, rep from * to * once more. Cont in pat as established until piece measures 13½ (14, 14½, 15") from beg, end with a WS row.

Shape armhole

Bind off 4 sts at beg of next 0 (2, 2, 4) rows, 3 sts at beg of next 2 (2, 2, 6) rows, 2 sts at beg of next 2 (6, 6, 4) rows. Dec 1 st each side every RS row 3 times—80 (80, 96, 96) sts. Work even until armhole measures 7½ (8, 8½, 9") from beg, end with a WS row. Mark center 16 (16, 20, 20) sts.

Shape shoulders and neck

Bind off 5 (5, 7, 7) sts at beg of next 4 rows, 6 (6, 7, 7) sts at beg of next 4 rows. AT SAME TIME, bind off center marked sts and, working both sides at same time with separate balls of yarn, bind off from each neck edge 5 sts twice.

Right Front

Shape armhole and V-neck

Shape armhole as for back, AT SAME TIME, when armhole measures 1½ (2, 1½, 2") from beg, end with a WS row and shape V-neck as foll: Dec 1 st at neck edge on next row, then every other row 8 (8, 9, 9) times more, then every 4th row 7 (7, 8, 8) times. AT SAME TIME, when same length as back to shoulder, shape shoulder as for back.

Left Front

Sleeves

With larger needles, cast on 62 (62, 70, 78) sts. Work Chart C. AT SAME TIME, inc 1 st each side (working incs into pat) on 5th row, then every 4th row 3 (5, 2, 0) times, every 6th row 2 (2, 4, 6) times—74 (78, 84, 92) sts. Work even until piece measures 5 (6, 6, 6½) from beg, end with a WS row.

Shape cap

Cont pats, bind off 3 sts at beg of next 2 rows, 2 sts at beg of next 4 rows, Dec 1 st each side on next row, then every 4th row 7 (8, 8, 8) times more. Work 1 row even. Bind off 2 sts at beg of next 4 (2, 4, 4, 2) rows, 4 sts at beg of next 2 rows. Bind off rem 22 (22, 24, 26) sts.

Finishing

Block pieces. Sew shoulders.

Buttonband

With RS facing and smaller needles, beg at center back neck and pick up and k22 (22, 26, 26) sts shoulder, 140 (148, 156, 164) st along left front to lower edge—162 (170, 182, 190) sts. Work 1" k2, p2 rib. Bind off all sts. Place markers along band for button: the first at beg of V-neck shaping, the last ¾" from lower edge, and others spaced evenly between.

Buttonhole band

Work to correspond to button band, working buttonholes (work 2 tog) opposite marker when band measures ½". Set band seam at center back neck. Set in sleeves. Sew side and sleeve seams. Sew on buttons. (

ruffled RUNABOUT

by Edie Eckman

"This stretchy yarn has a modern feel and is fun to knit. Although the number of stitches initially cast on is enough to discourage a knitter, these stitches are quickly decreased over the first 10 rows and a more manageable number is used for the remainder of the sweater. The crocheted edging complements the stitch pattern and is easy to work, even for non-crocheters."

taking a RIBBING

Celeste Pinheiro

"Although this little cardigan is simple in design, it was deceptively difficult to predict the amount of pull that the ribbing would have in the final garment. It will still pull back in after blocking, but put it on your little girl and it'll fit just right—close fitting, with just enough stretch. The rib will compact to a dress for baby (just shorten the sleeves), then grow to a cardigan for a bigger girl. See how the pull of the rib in the bodice naturally makes a shaped armhole for the sleeve cap. This would look great in a lot of random bright stripes too. And a big thank you to my four-year-old son Thomas for being such a patient dress form."

Celeste has a way with kiddy designs. This one is especially nice since she's made it in both baby and child sizes. The stretchy rib gives it great growth potential. For the best-dressed kid on the block, this sweater in a tweedy, mercerized cotton yarn is just the ticket.

Notes

1 See p. 30 for backwards single crochet. 2 Work body back and forth in one piece to underarm, then divide for fronts and back. 3 Sizes 6-18 months are given first; sizes 2-8 fall in brackets. With RS facing, beg lower right front edge and work backwards sc along lower edge up left front, around neck in down right front (ch 3, skip 2) for buttonhole at each marker. Work backwards sc around sleeve edges. Sew on buttons.

on the POINT

Vicki Square

"I wanted to design a vest that would work as a basic, but not look basic. This vest draws on its streamlined design for its impact. I like using the figure flattering point shaping in the vest front, and have echoed it with the notched back and cable V-neck. The garter stitch provides a good balance for the cable in texture and visual weight. The silk blend yarn has that clinging quality that makes the knitting moldable, while also requiring the garter stitch to maintain its shape. The end result is a supple drape in this light and comfortable year round garment."

Notes

1 See School, p. 82 for ssk, 3 needle bind-off, backward loop cast-on, and cable cast-on. 2 For ease in working, mark RS of work. 3 Work decs as foll: at beg of RS rows, k1, ssk; at end of RS rows, k2tog, k1. 4 Charts are on page 72.

Cast on 4 sts. Work rows 1-42 of Chart A—45 (49, 51, 54) sts. Rep chart rows 35-42 until piece measures 8" above last cast-on row, end with a WS row.

Can you have too many vests? We think not! You'll want to make several of Vicki's design. It's practical, versatile, and an easy-knitting piece. The pointed front edges and notched back are easily achieved. For season-spanning wear-ability, she uses a denim wool and silk blended yarn.

"This quick-knit vest is as much fun to make as it is to wear. The knitting begins at the buttonhole band and continues sideways around the vest to the button band on the opposite front. Because of this, the unique shaping and the traveling slip stitches keep you interested from the start to finish."

Barbara Venishnick

"Cabana Stripe is derived from all those colorful things associated with the beach, striped umbrellas, folding canvas chairs, giant beach towels and foodstand awnings.... Stop that Good Humor man—I want an orange creamsicle!"

"A special note—if you would like to make Cabana Stripe in more than two colors, one skein of Provence is enough to knit one stripe on the front and back plus two underarm and sleeve stripes, with enough left over to make tassels and for comfort."

Notes

1 See School, p. 82 for SK2P, intarsia knitting, and 3-needle bind-off. 2 Use separate ball of yarn for each color stripe. 3 Bring new color under old to twist yarns and prevent holes.

Knitter's Magazine SUMMER '99

Elegant enough for a tea party, this unusual point-edged top is as interesting to make as it is to wear. For Caribbean flavor, knit it in a splash of bright tones or for understated appeal, work it in one color. Make it with or without the multi-colored tassels. The mercerized cotton gives it a sleek, sophisticated look.

st B—155 sts. All Sizes Work as foll, matching colors: P 1 row, k 1 row. Change to smaller needles. Work in Pat st, matching colors, until piece measures 17 (18, 19)" from beg, end with a WS row.

Shape armhole

Bind off 17 sts at beg of next 2 rows—104 (121, 138) sts. Work even, keeping 1 selvage st each side in color of edge stripes, until armhole measures 10". Place all sts on hold.

Left Sleeve

Sizes Small and Large Work as for right sleeve. Size Medium Work as for right sleeve, reversing colors A and B.

Finishing

Block pieces.

Join shoulders

Place sts of front and back on smaller needles. With RS tog and larger needle, join first and last 18 (27, 35) sts, using 3-needle bind-off. Leave center 68 (67, 68) sts of front and back on hold.

Front neck trim

With RS facing, work across sts of front neck on hold, matching colors, as foll: P 1 row, k 1 row. Bind off all sts purlwise.

Back neck trim

Work as for front trim. Sew edges of trim tog. Set in sleeves. Sew side and sleeve seams.

Tassels

With 1 strand of A and B held tog, make one 4½" tassel for each B stripe of front and back. Attach tassel to point of each B stripe. □

Tassels

1 Wrap yarn around a piece of cardboard that is the desired length of the tassel. Thread a strand of yarn, insert it through the cardboard and tie it at the top, leaving a long end to wrap around the tassel.

2 Cut the lower edge to free the wrapped strands. Wrap the long end of the yarn around the upper edge and insert the yarn into the top, as shown. Trim the strands.

scallops on THE EDGE

Kathy Zimmerman

"This design uses the same basic shape for both a cardigan and a vest, with modifications only at the armhole and shoulder. This is a wonderful illustration of how a conventional cardigan with sleeves can be adapted to a sleeveless version, or vice versa.

"The openwork scalloped edging complements the simple lace and ladder textured pattern, adding a contemporary twist to a traditional design. The reverse stockinette sections between the large eyelets line up with the stitch repeats for flattering vertical lines. This versatile edging can be varied to work other stitch pattern multiples by binding off more or less stitches initially or increasing more stitches into the eyelet. It's no wonder that non-traditional edges are making a fashion statement this season!"

Mastering yet another two-way design, Kathy gives us both a vest and a cardigan incorporating the same wonderful non-traditional border. The key to her design is the way she cleverly integrates the border into the body pattern. With perfect nautical charm, the navy vest or ecru cardigan are both lovely and long-lasting in a quality-mercerized cotton.

Notes

1 See School, p. 82 for cable cast-on, ssk, ssp, and S2KP2. 2 Body of cardigan and vest are worked the same, except for armhole and shoulder shaping. 3 In order to maintain correct st count when working incs or decs in Chart pat, k2tog's and ssk's must be paired with a yo, and S2KP2 paired with 2 yo's. 4 Chart is on page 73.

edgy SWIRLS

hanta Moitra

"I was inspired by Lily Chin's article in Knitter's Spring '98 (K50) regarding problem solving in lace designing. I decided to design a cardigan top for summer wear. I chose a lace and simple cable pattern for the lower body. To avoid the lace pattern shaping and large see-through holes, I used a ribbing pattern for the upper body. The neck and front bands are knit in garter stitch and yarn-over rows. Yarn-over holes are used for buttonholes. The combination of lace and ribbing patterns make this cardigan both elegant and modest."

Notes

1 Work body back and forth in rows in one piece to underarm, then divide for fronts and back. 2 Use shorter or longer circular needle, as needed.

ENTRELAC

Jane Zangl

"When I designed this shawl for our first grandchild, I wanted a lacy, openwork pattern without being overly 'fussy' and decided on blocks of solid stockinette stitch intertwined with openwork in an entrelac pattern. Finding a matching border was amazingly easy, as this was the first one I came across in the first book I opened—definitely a good omen. The original was worked with a wool and cotton blend in creamy off-white, giving the christening shawl a very traditional look. For an older child's 'blankie,' work it in two bright contrasting colors. All wrong-side rows are purled, so if you don't like turning your work this is a good project to practice knitting back-backwards. When the shawl is finished you will be able to do it as quickly as regular knitting. Because the border has a bias slant to it, no extra rows are needed to turn the corners."

This heirloom piece has endless using options—a baby blanket, christening shawl, kid's crib cover, or a graceful shawl. The entrelac patterning makes it an interesting design to knit and the lace border finishes it in great style. It's made in bi-color neutrals in a durable cotton and alpaca blend.

serpentine SIMPLICITY

Norah Gaughan

"The sinuous leaf and eyelet pattern along the base of this pullover gives the visual interest of a border, while maintaining a straight and easy silhouette. The absence of fussy details, tight or binding elements at the cuffs and lower edge helps place emphasis on the drape of the fabric. This is in keeping with the current trend in ready-to-wear towards simplicity and comfort, without becoming boring."

Looking for a design with maximum figure flattery?

Norah's design is a good candidate with its straight-hanging edges and loose, uncluttered silhouette. The richly colored, slightly textured cotton and nylon blend yarn makes it more than just another ordinary sweater.

statuesque BEAUTY

by Zabeth Weiner

"This cardigan is really easy to execute. The picot stripe is simple to master and gives a solid edge to the garment, while adding elegance to its simplicity. Its charm comes from the variegated yarn accented by the contrasting cotton trim."

By combining a variegated yarn with solid black trim, Zabeth creates a nicely detailed cardigan with unique border interest. She calls this an "easy-to-execute" design. It makes a perfect office-wear sweater that's not just for summertime. Both yarn are cotton and rayon blends.

Note

See School, p. 82 for ssk and ssp.

endless BEGINNINGS

This classic pullover, suitable for any guy or gal, is made without a traditional ribbed edging. E.J. uses a simple cable and moss diamond pattern for this design. The matte cotton gives it an unparalleled casual look.

J. Slayton

"I've wanted to use this pattern in a sweater ever since I saw it in a Japanese stitch collection. I love playing with cables, and making the pattern 'grow' organically from the border is always an intriguing piece of the designing puzzle."

Lily M. Chin

"This unusual garment construction was so conducive to sizing up and down that I give you seven choices. The slimming zig zag lines mean anyone can wear this."

Simply work bias tubes in an easy stripe pattern (great for travel and mindless knitting). It only looks intricate. The yoke is picked up and sleeves are done separately. Again, I like the divide-and-conquer method for easy knitting with maximum effect. Pockets are hidden along a seam line. If the contrast of color is stark to you, just pick colors that are closer together in value for a more subtle effect."

Notes

1 See School, p. 82 for ssk, M1 right-slanting (M1R) and M1 left-slanting (M1L), invisible cast-on, and grafting. 2 Body is worked flat and joined into tubes which are sewn tog. Yoke sts are picked up along edge of top tube. 3 Carry colors loosely along side of work. 4 Sizes XS-L are given first in parentheses; sizes XL-XXXL fall in brackets. If there is only one number or set of instructions, it applies to all sizes. For ease in working, circle numbers for your size.

tank top

What's more basic than a tank top? If you haven't had success in making one in the past, here's a tank top pattern you might like to try. Kathleen's design comes in an extensive size range and it's sure to fit well. The subtle garter eyelet border is perfect for this easy-making style. For versatile wearing, it's shown here

Athleen Power Johnson

How delightfully surprising to take a simple design, make it in three different yarns, and produce three totally different looks: simply elegant, simply casual, and simply dramatic. Since the shape is basic, the focus is on the yarn, with a distinctively subtle garter stitch eyelet hem. For a demure effect, you might try weaving a ribbon through the eyelets. Following through on the theme of simplicity, the neckline and armhole edges are finished with a single bound-off knit row. This design can easily be converted for the knitting machine."

in the SWING

Gloria Tracy

I designed this jacket with its flattering shape to be adaptable for many body types. Regardless of your fitting problem areas, you'll find that this swing jacket will enhance your figure. Select the bust size that pertains to you. It's A-line shape is created by changing needle sizes rather than by decreasing and is especially flattering for those who need more room at the hip area. The attractive V-neck front shaping lengthens and elongates the torso and is ideal even for those who carry weight in the bust and shoulder areas.

The other flattering feature of the jacket is the three-piece construction that eliminates a too-tight set-in sleeve for a fuller figure. If you have narrow shoulders, add a shoulder pad for a proper fit."
